BREAK IN ARMISTICE SIGN FOR CONFLICT

TRIVIAL INCIDENT IN PEACE
PROCEEDINGS MAY PRECI-
PITATE GENERAL EURO-PEAN STRUGGLE.

RUSSIA IS WATCHING

Should Austria-Hungary Become Actively Hostile to Servia Russian Interference Would be Inevitable.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Dec. 4.—Notwithstanding the fact that an armistice has been signed by the belligerents in front of Constantinople, the warlike situation confronting the great powers of Europe is even more critical today than before the temporary peace between Turkey and the Balkan allies was affected.

Any untoward incident or provocative act which in ordinary circumstances would be considered trivial, would, it is thought, have the effect of precipitating a struggle in which not only Austria-Hungary and Servia would engage, but Russia and Germany as well, besides perhaps also Italy, Roumania and France as well as Greece and Bulgaria.

Russia May Act.

Should any act set Austria-Hungary in motion it is believed forces in Russia would be loosened, which the Russian emperor would find himself unable to resist and the result would be a war more disastrous than any in the history of modern Europe.

Russia has resorted to what she terms the "rattling of the German Sword," by the imperial chancellor, by saying that a repetition of the methods resorted to at the period when the occupation by Austria Hungary of Bosnia and Herzegovina caused a crisis, will not now be permitted, the prominence given by Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg to the idea of what was resented by the newspapers of St. Petersburg.

Paper Voices Attitude.

The general trend of their comment is voiced by the Navas Vremya which says: "History is repeating itself, but it is not now so easy to force the Russian diplomacy into a faint hearted retreat. Such intimidation will frighten nobody."

The immediate withdrawal of the vast Russian deposits in the German banks is advocated by many of the Russian generals.

Should Greece persist in her refusal to adhere to the armistice signed yesterday necessarily it would throw Bulgaria more closely into the embrace of Servia and give fresh encouragement to the Servian resistance to the European powers who practically are unanimous in condemning the Servian demands.

May Involve Roumania.

If Austria-Hungary should attempt, as has been suggested, to employ to keep Bulgaria quiet in the event of an Austro-Servian war, it is thought that such action would only enlarge the area of conflict and participate a general catastrophe.

Any interevent Roumania would, it is argued, inevitably compel Russia to take drastic action on behalf of the Slavs in the Balkans.

Servia yesterday issued a decree calling up for service all the men in the country capable of bearing arms according to a news agency dispatch from Sofia.

To Buy Cruiser.

Constantinople, Dec. 4.—The negotiations recently opened by the Turkish minister of marines, Salih Bey, with the Argentine government for the purchase of a powerful cruiser are said today to have reached a well advanced stage.

Resume Traffic.

Green Bay, Dec. 4.—The normal export and import of goods will be resumed tomorrow throughout Bulgaria. The railroads are fully equipped to handle the freight.

Ready For War.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Dec. 4.—The peace plenipotentiaries representing Turkey, Bulgaria, Servia and Montenegro will begin their work in London on Friday of next week. The armistice signed at eight o'clock last evening at the village of Bagstica put through the revised form drafted by Dr. S. Danefi, speaker of the Bulgarian Parliament.

It contains the following conditions: One, The belligerent army shall occupy the position they at present occupy.

Second, The besieged Turkish fortresses shall not be revictualled.

Three, The revictualing of the Bulgarian army in the field shall be carried out by way of the Black Sea and Adrianople commencing ten days after the signature of the armistice.

Fourth, The negotiations for peace shall begin in London, Dec. 13th.

It is officially announced that the frank plenipotentiaries did not definitely reject the terms of the armistice but withheld their decision for twenty-four hours.

Even in the event of the other plenipotentiaries declining to approve the armistice, Greece will continue to participate in the peace negotiations to be held in London.

Government Attorney Charges Ryan And Webb Aiding in Escape Of Accused Dynamiter.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Indianapolis, Dec. 4.—Charges that Frank M. Ryan, president of the iron workers' union and Frank C. Webb, New York, a union official helped an accused dynamiter to escape were made in the cross-examination of Ryan by the government at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today. It was brought out that George O. Donnell, an iron worker after an explosion on a bridge at Somerset, Mass., in June, 1908 was convicted of attempting to kill and that after his release from the penitentiary he escaped service of papers charging him with dynamiting. District Attorney Miller charged Ryan and Webb with helping O'Donnell to "make a get-away." Ryan denied the charge, but admitted the union paid several thousand dollars to O'Donnell, employed lawyers in his behalf and conducted a correspondence to "steal a march on them when O'Donnell got out on the first charge."

HOUSING PROBLEM TOPIC AT PHILADELPHIA MEETING.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 4.—Sociologists, health officers and civic welfare workers from many cities gathered here today to attend the second National Conference on Housing in America, which concluded its sessions Friday. Questions relating to health and sanitation, overcrowding in lodging houses, workingmen's houses and their financing, the planning and building of garden cities, and the work of teaching the housing gospel to newly arrived immigrants are among the subjects for discussion by the members.

WILL TRY TEXAS WOMAN FOR MURDERING HUSBAND.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Dallas, Texas, Dec. 4.—The case of Mrs. Minnie Ladique, under indictment on a charge of first degree murder, was called in court here today for trial. Mrs. Ladique is accused of having shot and killed her husband as he stood at the telephone in the Waldorf Hotel, where he was employed as a clerk. The tragedy is said to have resulted from Mrs. Ladique's jealousy because of her husband's alleged attentions to other women.

VACATION IN BERMUDA

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Hamilton, Bermuda, (by way of Kingston, Jamaica) Dec. 4.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson continues to enjoy his holiday here. Communication directly with America by cable is cut off and there is no prospect of the defect being repaired for some time.

HALF CENTURY OF WORK OF NOTRE DAME SISTERS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Green Bay, Dec. 4.—Fifty years ago today the Sisters of Notre Dame arrived in Green Bay and established their convent. On Sunday they will celebrate their golden jubilee with fitting ceremonies.

NO WAGE ADVANCE FOR COTTON MILL OPERATIVES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Fall River, Mass., Dec. 4.—There will be no advance in the wages of the 30,000 cotton mill operatives of Fall River at this time. It was announced by the textile council today that as a result of a conference between representatives of the manufacturers' union no formal demand for an increase would be presented. An advance of 10 per cent in wages was made last spring.

READY FOR WAR.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Dec. 4.—The peace plenipotentiaries representing Turkey, Bulgaria, Servia and Montenegro will begin their work in London on Friday of next week. The armistice signed at eight o'clock last evening at the village of Bagstica put through the revised form drafted by Dr. S. Danefi, speaker of the Bulgarian Parliament.

German Chancellor Forbids Members Of Diplomatic Corps Marrying Foreign-Born Women.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Berlin, Dec. 4.—The entry of American-born wives into the German diplomatic corps is forbidden from now on, under a ruling of imperial chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg, who has restored the regulation made by the late Prince Bismarck prohibiting German diplomats from marrying foreigners. In the course of years the regulation had fallen in desuetude. Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg has now informed the members of the German diplomatic service that the decision of an official of the German diplomatic corps serving abroad to marry a foreigner will hereafter be regarded as an expression of his wish to retire from the service.

LOS ANGELES FAILS TO GET NEW CHARTER

Good Government Forces Given First Setback as Result of Yesterday's Election.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 4.—Citizens of Los Angeles awoke today to find out with a certainty they had not a new city charter and that they had the saloon free lunch left to them. Both propositions were voted on yesterday. This was the first defeat suffered by the good government organization since it assumed control of city affairs with the recall of Mayor Harper four years ago. The charter proposition was beaten about two to one and the anti-free lunch ordinance lost in about the same proportion. The harbors zone of the city rejected the proposed measures by a scant majority.

REPUBLICANS PLAN FOR ORGANIZATION

Secretary Hiles and Congressman Olcott Discuss Details of Dinner on Jan. 4th.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Dec. 4.—Details of the republican organization dinner in New York next month were discussed today at a brief conference between Secretary Hiles and former Representative Olcott of New York.

January 4 practically has been decided on as the date. President Taft will be the principal speaker.

IOWA AND NEBRASKA HOTEL CLERKS ASSEMBLE IN OMAHA.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Omaha, Neb., Dec. 4.—The hotel clerks and the diamond pin, long deemed inseparable, have apparently parted company, for of one thousand men with the glad hand assembled in this city today less than five per cent sported a shiner in his scarf. The visitors, looking every inch like well-to-do business men with none of the flashy toggery that distinguished the hotel clerks of old, are here to attend the eighth annual convention of the Iowa and Nebraska Hotel Clerks' Association. The convention will conclude tomorrow night with a banquet at which Governor-elect Monette and Daniel Olmstead, national president of the Greeters' Association of America, are scheduled as speakers.

HEAVY DAMAGE BY FIRE TO PLANTS IN ST. JOSEPH, MO.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

St. Joseph, Mo., Dec. 4.—Fire early today destroyed the fixture department of the American Sash and Door company and the plant of the St. Joseph Specialty Shoe Machine Company. Loss, $170,000.

Alabama D. A. R. Conference.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 4.—The fourteenth annual conference of the Alabama division of the Daughters of the American Revolution convened in this city today and will continue in session until Saturday. A notable feature of the three days' program will be the unveiling of a memorial to the Revolutionary soldiers buried in Jefferson county.

NO PAYMENT FOR COTTON MILL OPERATIVES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Fall River, Mass., Dec. 4.—There will be no advance in the wages of the 30,000 cotton mill operatives of Fall River at this time. It was announced by the textile council today that as a result of a conference between representatives of the manufacturers' union no formal demand for an increase would be presented. LA FOLLETTE FORCES
TO HAVE OPPOSITION

Reported That Their Possibility of Electing a Speaker is Extremely Doubtful.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Milwaukee, Dec. 4.—The Daily News says: "The La Follette people may not have an easy time controlling the selection of a speaker of the assembly as they have figured. No matter what happens Ray J. Nye of Superior, will be a candidate for the speakership and although he is perfectly aware that his candidacy is not favored by the La Follette people, Mr. Nye is going into the race practically in defiance of the La Follette wishes. The La Follette people have not believed Mr. Nye would take this step and have said time and again at Madison during the past two weeks that when it came to the last analysis Mr. Nye would not be a candidate. The statement printed the other night when Mr. Nye was in the city that the Superior man had decided to run anyway came as a surprise to the La Follette people as there is no question that Mr. Nye can control some support even in the face of open opposition."

ELEVEN DEATH TOLL IN RAILROAD WRECK

Rear End Collision Near Zanesville Results in Death of Eleven, And Serious Injury Of Others.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Zanesville, Ohio, Dec. 4.—Eleven dead, one probably fatally injured and four others seriously injured is the wreck score as a result of a rear end collision between the Cincinnati and Muskingum valley passenger train No. 43 and Cleveland, Akron and Columbus passenger train No. 125 last night, in which the rear coach of the latter train was telescoped. The "unidentified man" of last night was identified after midnight as Henry J. Haskell a traveling salesman of Zanesville who known all over the state as a leader of the Gideons.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM LAW GIVEN ITS FIRST TEST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Sheboygan, Dec. 4.—The first test of the new state initiative and referendum law ever made in the state was made yesterday in a special election to decide whether a certain ordinance should be approved. A majority of the commission of three recently voted to buy a pump for the municipal water works plant, but the mayor president of the commission refused to submit to the vote of the majority. He favored another pump. The council voted then to increase the number of commissioners from three to five, the mayor to appoint two. Then the initiative law was referred to and the question of whether the ordinance should be approved was voted on yesterday. The election resulted in repealing the ordinance by a majority of 170.

COL. GRACIE, SURVIVOR OF TITANIC DISASTER, DEAD.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Dec. 4.—Col. Archibald Gracie, of Washington, one of the last passengers to leave the sinking Titanic died here today in a private hospital. Col. Gracie went down with the vessel but on coming to the surface found a life raft on which he afterwards helped others. His family is prominent in New York, Washington, and Mobile, Alabama.

STOUGHTON COUNCIL HAS PASSED RIGID ORDINANCE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Stoughton, Dec. 4.—The common council today passed an ordinance prohibiting the sale of cigarettes and tobacco to minors under seventeen years of age.

POWER PLANTS ON THREE STATES IN BIG MERGER.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 4.—Fourteen of the largest waterpower electric plants in Utah, Idaho and Colorado have been merged in a $10 million dollar corporation, which will supply railroads, mines, mills and smelters with power.

REFUSES TO BE REIMBURSED FOR WORK COLLECTING FUNDS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., Dec. 4.—The refusal of Sol Levitan, the Madison progressive leader, to allow the state central committee to reimburse him for traveling and other expenses incident to his collection of funds for the state campaign, brought an appreciative letter yesterday from Republican State Chairman George E. Scott. Col. Levitan's expense was large but he bore it all.

DOE SECURES JUDGMENT AGAINST A. F. SCHWITTAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Wausau, Dec. 4.—Joseph A. Doe, attorney, today secured judgment in Marathon circuit court against A. F. Schwittay sheriff and assemblyman of Marinette, for $553 for services as counsel in disbarment proceedings. The case was removed here from Marinette. The trial lasted nine minutes.

NEENAH CHILDREN STRICKEN WITH PECULIAR DISEASE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Neenah, Wis., Dec. 4.—A peculiar disease has become prevalent in Neenah among young children which the physicians are trying to combat. The disease attacks victims without warning and in several cases death has followed a few hours later. Considerable alarm is felt among parents as the cause of the disease is not yet determined.

MRS. WORRY.

BY C. A. VOIGHT.

Sport Shop Shots by Dan McCarty

If self-confidence is one of the essentials to success in the fight game, Jack Britton is pretty well off. He thinks he can lick champion Willie Ritchie with one hand, and his eyes closed. "I will guarantee to knock Ritchie out in fifteen rounds," says Britton. "I don't care to take credit away from him, but I know I can beat him."

Just now Britton is trying to get a bout with Packey McFarland.

The advent of Ritchie as head of his class gives us five scinned champions—Coulon, bantam; Kilbane, feather; McCourt or Gibbons, middle; and Jack Johnson heavy. The latter holds the right to the premiership, in spite of public opinion, until a white man comes along who possesses something better than second or third rate ability.

Bob Storer and Charley Brickley of the Harvard football eleven are congratulating themselves on their exclusiveness. Only ten other Harvard men have scored touchdowns against Yale. Bert Holden was the first, and he performed his feat in 1886. Then came C. A. Porter in 1887; Dudley S. Dean and James P. Lee in 1890; J. H. Hayes in 1894; W. T. Reid twice, and Ben H. Dibblee once in 1898; Crawford Blagden, A. W. Ristin and Tom H. Graydon in 1901; and now in 1912 Storer and Brickley.

"Reform football" is the latest cry. Not necessarily the game itself, but what goes with it. Football coaches finally the casualties have been less than several seasons.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Pat Flaherty, the former big league pitcher has been appointed manager of the Lynn New England League team.

The Ohio State League may admit Huntington and Charleton, W. Va., in order to form an eight-club circuit for next season.

The International League produced a big squad of heavy stickers the past season and even half hundred players hitting for .300 or better.

Manager George Stallings of the Boston Nationals, has announced the purchase of Drummond Brown, catcher from the Vernon club, of the Pacific Coast League.

It is said that Johnny Kling, the veteran catcher and last season manager of the Boston Braves, is willing to invest some real money in a minor league franchise.

Ban Johnson has slipped John M. Ward 1,000 buttons; and thus ended the libel suit brought against the American league president by the former baseball magnate.

Shortstop Harry Krug and First baseman Bradley have been given the pink slip by the champion Red Sox. Krug goes to the Indianapolis team and Bradley to the Jersey City Skeeters.

President Hailbronner, of the Central League, is finding it a tough job to form an eight-club circuit for next season. Last season the Central was a twelve-club league, but at the present time only six clubs are willing to enter the organization.

Roger Bresnahan claims that his contract as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals calls for a salary of $10,000 a year, and has four more years to run. Mrs. Britton, owner of the Cards, says that Roger "didn't try" to win games, so Roger is going to try to collect his salary.

WITH THE BOXERS.

Young Erne has called off his bout with Tommy Coleman in Philadelphia on account of neuralgia.

Charley White, the clever Chicago lightweight, has a brother, who is boxing in the welterweight division.

Jack Britton and Eddie Murphy will furnish the windup feature of the next show to be staged at Kenosha, Wis.

Germany is now enjoying the boxing game, and the Anglo-American Boxing club of Berlin, has proven to be great success.

A London promoter is anxious to arrange a match between Bill Papke and Jim Sullivan, the English middle-weight champion.

Eddie Stanton, the California bantam, claims to be the only boxer that ever knocked out Ledoux, the French champion, who is now in this country.

Young Josy Smith, champion lightweight of Ireland and Scotland, will sail for New York soon in the hope of securing matches with some of our top-notchers.

MAROONS DEFEAT GRAYS IN CONTEST LAST NIGHT

their persistent habit of sending out bear stories before big games. They tell how their best players are suffering from mutilations, charley horses, tattered ligaments, sprains, blind staggers and what not. As a rule there is little foundation for such reports, and the intelligent public is getting tired of them. It is time to ring the bell on that sort of thing, and it is to be hoped that football coaches will not persist in it next year.

Charley Hall, the Red Sox pitcher, is playing winter baseball on the Pacific coast with Snodgrass and Shuler of the Giants as team mates.

Princeton will play her first hockey game on December 20 at the St. Nicholas rink, New York. The Tigers play Williams on that date.

Dan McKeown, manager of Joe Jeannette's, has received numerous offers to have his heavyweight star appear in the ring Christmas day.

"The rules of 1912 have produced a game that gives everybody opportunity of developing an all-round attack, at the same time promising positive relations in the shape of scores for that attack," recently remarked Walter Camp, dean of football. "The rules have produced a game that pleases the public, the player and, so far, those who have formerly criticized it, for it gives an hour of exciting strenuousness and individual skill.

Finally the casualties have been less than several seasons."

Eat Buckwheat Cakes For Breakfast Every Morning During The Winter Months

Typically An American Dish. There's No More Healthful Cereal Known.

Crisp, cool, snappy mornings; how pleasing is the sight of a stack of piping hot, golden brown buckwheat cakes, covered with maple syrup, while close by a dish of crisp bacon or pork sausage awaits your pleasure. A breakfast that starts you off for the day feeling fit and the better for it

Old Times Buckwheat Makes The Best Cakes

Ground After The Old Process—Healthful and Wholesome—Kiln Dried—No Moisture

Old Times Buckwheat has been milled in Janesville for many years; takes its name from the old fashioned process after which it is ground. This process retains all the health-giving, wholesome and appetizing parts of the berry.

Old Times Buckwheat is kiln-dried which takes out every bit of moisture and you get full weight, besides this drying causes the flour to mix more readily and a smoother batter is the result. You do not have to pay for any percentage of moisture.

Over 1,000,000 families in the West, sit down daily, during the winter months, to their breakfast of Old Times Buckwheat Cakes. That is perhaps its strongest recommendation. It ought to be served on your table, Madame.

Your Grocer Has OLD TIMES BUCKWHEAT In Stock Insist on Old Times—Take No Other—There's None "Just as Good"

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION.

The question of industrial education which is just now exciting some attention in Wisconsin, is no longer in its infancy at Hammond, Indiana, where for the past three years it has been in full swing. It has so thoroughly revolutionized the public school system, that it has practically absorbed it. Some of the methods employed would not apply to the average inland city, as Hammond is a great industrial center, but it is of interest to know just what is being done, and the following account from the Madison Democrat, tells the story. The industrial school in Hammond has no vacation period, but work and play is so cleverly combined that there is no cause for complaint.

In quite a practical manner they do not allow working to interfere with going to school at Hammond, Indiana. Special arrangements are made whereby boys and girls may work half a day in certain commercial establishments and attend school the rest of the day. Hammond is a manufacturing community where the temptation to boys and girls is strong to leave school and earn a living. Superintendent McDaniel's plan makes it possible for boys and girls to earn money, remain in school, and also make themselves more efficient industrially.

The method is based on a full realization of modern social and industrial conditions. Superintendent McDaniel proceeds on the theory that, while there are certain general principles underlying all education, each community has its own special problems that too often are disregarded in the making of the schools. Besides the co-operative school and shop arrangement, Hammond maintains a night school with an attendance of 700, where boys and girls may not only make up elementary deficiencies, but also receive practical training in specific phases of commerce and industry.

"Vocational guidance forms another feature of the Hammond plan. The schools furnish information about the various industries in the community, the salaries paid in different lines of work, the opportunities for advancement, hours of labor, permanency of employment, and all the details that are of value in determining a choice of employment. As early as the sixth grade the teacher tests the child's interest and ability in various forms of elementary industrial work, so that he may come to have some idea of a future vocation. The school authorities also maintain an employment bureau, where present and former pupils are registered and their qualifications carefully investigated. Quite up to date indeed seems this Hammond school."

TEN DOLLARS A DAY FOR HER LAPDOGS.

The papers report that a wealthy woman well known in the community went to one of the finest hotels in New York and engaged a suite of four rooms and three baths for the winter at $50 a day. There was a living room, a bedroom and a bath for herself, a room and bath for the maids, and a bedroom and bath for her "babies," as she called her three dogs, two Japanese and one a Pekingese spaniel. Rising from their satin-lined baskets in the morning, the dogs are bathed with scented water in the big white tub. After that comes breakfast with milk and toast. At luncheon the "babies" are served with lamb chops and creamed potatoes. Dinner consists of a bit of chicken, mashed potatoes, and a dessert of ice cream or some creamy confection. The fare for the dogs is $10 a day, $3,350 a year. It could hardly be thought possible that there should be such a wicked waste of money and such a misdirection of affection as this story would indicate, when there are so many children dying for want of food, and whose hearts are crying for want of love. The sum of $2,600 might have been given to poor little real babies to save them and make them happy, and then the dogs could have lived luxuriously on the $50 left. So many waste their time, their money and their energy on the things that are little, insignificant and low, neglecting the things that are lofty and divine.—The Christian Herald.

This is the sort of extravagance that encourages socialism, and a general spirit of unrest. The idle rich represent but a small minority, and the world would never miss them.

The Thanksgiving number of the Christian Science Monitor contains twelve eight-page sections, carries six hundred advertisements, and is full of news and special features. The publishers take commendable pride in the success of clean journalism. The "Monitor" is an object lesson along this line, and should be an inspiration to publishers generally. While the little constituency is a prominent factor, it by no means absorbs the field. There is a wholesome demand for cleanliness in all parts of the land.

The same old arguments hold good this year, in regard to early Christmas shopping—"complete stocks," "more time to make selections," and "consideration for the people behind the counter." The men seldom think of Christmas presents before ten o'clock on Christmas eve, and then take the first thing offered, but the women are the Christmas buyers, and they have discovered that time and careful financiering are necessary, and that early shopping possesses all the advantages.

Governor Blease of South Carolina prides himself on having pardoned 400 prisoners in twenty-two months, and says that he hopes to double the number during the next two years. The state attempted to defeat him at the recent election; but he seems to have a life lease on the job. He is now a candidate for the United States senate, and if he wins, the people of South Carolina will find him less of a nuisance at long range. He has been a thorn in the flesh to them for many years.

The marriage of Jack Johnson, the colored pugilist, to the Cameron girl, yesterday, is the climax of another tragedy in the career of the man who has infatuated three white girls during the past three years. It is difficult to understand this strange infatuation, but there is no accounting for taste. The new wife will live to regret her rash act, but this will be poor consolation to either herself or the home which she deserted.

President Taft will retire from office with a clean slate and a balance on the right side of the ledger. While expenses have been heavy, the administration has lived within its means, and the new president will not be confronted with a bankrupt treasury. The republican party has a record of which it need not be ashamed. If the "tariff for revenue only" party does as well, there will be occasion for congratulation.

During the present year, attempts have been made by the politicians in three commission-governed cities to revert to the old form. Each attempt has failed; first in Hutchinson, Kans.; then, on November 5th, in Spokane, and finally in the city of Milwaukee.

We Aim to Please.

We are in receipt of a pale note from a pink lady, or, rather, a pink note from a pale lady, asking us for suggestions as regards wedding gifts. All of the presents are so stereotyped that she needs suggestions as to something novel. Here are a few suggestions for wedding presents:

Pair of Crutches.

Rubber Tired baby cab.

One pound of real butter.

One dozen corn plasters.

Cork leg.

Cross cut saw.

Slide trombone.

Set of false teeth.

Neckyoke.

Compass.

Wheel chair.

Impossible to Tell All.

"Will you solemnly swear that the testimony you shall give shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?" "No; I won't swear to anything of the kind," answered the man who had been a witness in several big cases. "The lawyers won't let me tell half the truth."

President Daland Assisted by Miss Wilna Soverhill and Mrs. Kathryn Rogers in Fine Program.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Milton, Dec. 4.—President W. C. Daland gave a pipe organ recital at the S. D. B. church last evening. He was assisted by Miss Wilna Soverhill, violinist, of Janesville, and Mrs. Kathryn E. Rogers, organist, of this village. There was a large audience, including a goodly number from out of town and it was a delightful affair. President Daland and Mrs. Rogers added new laurels to their reputations as musical artists and Miss Soverhill gained many admirers by her skillful, artistic treatment of her violin numbers.

PLEADS INNOCENCE OF ASSAULT CHARGE

John McCloud Denies He Struck George Erwin, An Aged Man—Trial Set—Three Drunks Punished.

John McCloud, charged with making an assault upon George Erwin, an aged man, entered a plea of "not guilty" in the municipal court this morning. His trial was set for ten o'clock Saturday morning and in default of $500 bail he will await his trial in jail. McCloud just rounded out a term of ten days in the county jail for drunkenness Monday morning. He at once proceeded to assure his ten day old thirst with the result that he went to the home of George Erwin, an elderly man living at 1041 North Bluff street and demanded that he be permitted to see the cows as he was a milk inspector. Mr. Erwin told him to be about his own business and McCloud, angered, struck him in the face. He did not suffer any severe bruises, however. The police were not notified until yesterday. McCloud was located on North Main street and captured after a futile attempt to escape. He gave the police no reason for striking Mr. Erwin, except that he was drunk. McCloud is the man who attempted to escape from Patrolman Sam Brown when placed under arrest. As the result of the struggle Patrolman Brown had several ligaments in his left leg torn. He hopes to be sufficiently recovered to resume his beat in a few days.

Three men were arraigned in court this morning on charges of intoxication. Pat Goodman was sentenced to eight days in jail and Tom Kelley to ten as they were not able to pay fines of $4 and $5 respectively. Louis Thorson paid a fine of $3 and costs.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Preached at Dedication: Rev. John Reynolds recently returned from a visit to a former parish in Pleasant Prairie, Kenosha County. While taking his theological course at Evanston, Ill., and one year afterwards, Mr. Reynolds was pastor of that village, and raised money to build a church which was burned down a few months ago. The trustees invited their former pastor to preach the first sermon in the new church, and assist in the dedication.

Beloit Taxes Higher: The city of Beloit will raise $190,220 in taxes for all purposes, city state and county, which is an increase of $8,574 over last year. The tax rate this year is 1560 for the east side and 1,586 for the west side. The rate last year was 1520, the decrease in rate being due to the increase in assessed valuations.

Mr. William Lohrman left early Monday morning for St. Louis, to attend the funeral of his mother who died suddenly Saturday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock while visiting with her relatives.

Notice of N. F. L.: There will be a regular meeting of Janesville Council No. 80 of the N. F. L. at Caledonia hall, Thursday evening, Dec. 5, at eight o'clock sharp. Election of officers. By order of Secretary C. H. Knapp.

Speaks Thursday Night: Rev. David Beaton will speak on the Federation of Protestant Churches at the regular Thursday evening prayer meeting of the Congregational church. Next week he will attend the gathering of churchmen from all over the country in Chicago when the same subject will be discussed.

Special Permit: A marriage license and special permit to wed at once was issued at the court house today to Peter Short and Maude E. Marble, both of Rockford.

Flushing Sewer: Ward Street Foreman Thomas McKune and helpers this morning flushed out the sewer to the rear of the buildings on the north side of West Milwaukee street, between Franklin and Jackson streets. There is no man-hole in the sewer between the one in this alley and one in the postoffice alley near the Thomas Siegel saloon. This makes flushing difficult and the sewer frequently becomes clogged.

Local Couple Wedded: Married at Rockford, November 18, 1912, by Judge Reckhow, Peter L. Joyce and Ethel McConnell, both of this city. They will be at home after December 15th, at 806 Eastern avenue.

AVON

Avon, Dec. 4.—There were no services at the M. E. church Sunday because the weather would not permit.

SANEBOURN-COWLES NUPTIALS CELEBRATED LAST EVENING.

Miss Mabel Sanborn Becomes Bride Of Norman S. Cowles—Wedding at Sanborn Home.

Miss Mabel Sanborn, niece of F. F. Sanborn, last evening became the bride of Norman S. Cowles, the wedding being performed at the home of Mr. Sanborn by the Rev. J. C. Hazen, pastor of the Baptist church. Only the immediate relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony. Following the conferring of congratulations the wedding dinner was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Cowles left on a brief honeymoon tour. They will be at home to their friends after January 10th, at 1041 Carrington street.

FORTY-ONE ENROLLED IN DAY INDUSTRIAL COURSES OF STUDY

Classes Now Meeting Twice a Week
—Two Departments of Study—
Three Hundred in Night School.

The day time Industrial School for pupils between the ages of fourteen and sixteen, working under a regular labor permit is now an established fact. The school is held twice a week on Friday and Saturday days, and forty-one pupils have already entered the school.

The school is divided in two departments of study. All of the pupils enter the class in English and Citizenship for two hours a week. This work is conducted by Miss Margaret Youngcuse. One section of the class meets from seven to nine Friday morning and another from one to three Friday afternoon and the third group from ten to twelve Saturday morning. That form of study is pursued which will add to the pupils' knowledge of reading, writing and spelling of the English language and also those subjects which lead towards better citizenship, such as civics, sanitation, etc.

The other work of the school is Industrial and is carried on three hours per week. The girls take the plain and machine sewing with Miss Cornish of the high school, while the boys have the shop work, consisting of tool work and mechanical drawing with Mr. H. H. Coplan, the manual training teacher of the high school. This class is held on Friday afternoon following the work in English and on Saturday morning from seven to ten. The time is arranged as far as possible to suit the convenience of the employers who allow time off for further continuance of the education of the young people who are working. The employers of the city have shown a fine spirit of co-operation. As far as is now known not one competent child has lost his position because of the necessity of being away from his work five hours a week. The employers realize that their best help is developed in the factory or shop itself by taking the pupils when they are young, and also the fact is apparent that the better a child is educated the more efficient he becomes in his work.

The aim of the school is to fit the child for the industrial life in which he is engaged and also for citizenship and this school has made a good beginning towards furnishing a more competent and loyal class of employees as times goes on.

Three hundred pupils are now enrolled in the various night school courses. Of this number fifty are in the class of salesmanship, twenty-seven in the English class for foreigners, thirty-seven in the beginning dress-making class, twenty-seven are taking advanced dress-making, forty-four sewing, thirty short-hand and type-writing, twenty-five bookkeeping, twenty electricians, ten engines, ten mechanical drawing and twelve cooking.

The class in advanced dress-making is taught by the Misses Georgia Glidden and Gertrude Buchholz, that in beginning dress-making by the Misses Minnie K. Meggott and Ida C. Lunde, and that in plain sewing by the Misses True Hyland and Maybelle Carnish of the high school faculty. Paul Neystrom of the Extension Department of the University of Wisconsin and D. D. Manross of the high school faculty are conducting the class in salesmanship. Guy W. Curtis is the class in shorthand and Miss Elizabeth McCue teaches the typewriting class. Prof. E. L. Rothe teaches the men's class in English for foreigners and Miss Maud Munroe the women's class in the same subject. Prof. John Arbutnott teaches electricity. H. H. Coplan mechanical drawing and Mrs. Coplan cooking.

Prof. Neystrom will meet with the class in salesmanship for the second time tomorrow night. The class meets regularly on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Last evening salesmanship from the standpoint of the buyer was taken up. Mrs. C. V. Kerch was invited to speak on telephone sales and service. Miss Helen Vlyman on retail sales methods in New York City, and Miss Gertrude Cobb spoke on the importance of thorough knowledge of goods and proper representation to the buyer.

NEWVILLE

Newville, Dec. 4.—The Thanksgiving program which was to have been given last Sunday by the Sunday school was postponed on account of the rain.

Word was recently received by relatives here of the death of Thomas Richardson after an illness of several weeks at his home in Fredericksburg, Iowa. Mr. Richardson was one of the early settlers of Newville, coming here from New York, when but a young boy. For many years he has made his home in Iowa, where a large circle of relatives as well as those in this state mourn his departure.

Little Albert Maas is the proud possessor of a Shetland pony.

Mrs. August Husen will entertain the L. A. S. on Thursday of this week.

Will Pierce has been visiting his brother, Clarke Pierce and family at Lodi.

Mr. Cooper had another bone removed from his injured toe on Saturday according to reports.

NORTH JOHNSTOWN.

North Johnstown, Dec. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Joyce, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McNally and children of Harmony, Andrew Pierce and Miss Julia Pierce spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. John Malone and family.

Marcia and Paul McNally spent from Thursday until Sunday with relatives here.

Edward Pierce, Sr., is ill with rheumatism. Dr. Dike is in attendance.

J. Foreman purchased a new threshing outfit this fall.

Ed and Will Malone and George and Forrest Foreman attended the A. O. H. party Thanksgiving night in Janesville.

Mrs. J. Malone and Miss Mamie spent Sunday in Whitewater.

Mrs. M. J. Joyce and Miss Julia Pierce spent Sunday in Milton Junction.

MILTON RURAL CARRIERS REPORT ON MAIL HANDLED.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Milton, Dec. 4.—Rural carriers Anderson and Gifford delivered and collected during the months of October and November thirty-three thousand nine hundred and nine pieces of all classes of mail, weighing four thousand four hundred and fifty pounds.

Rev. Dr. Randolph lectured at Prairie du Sac Monday night and at Currie, Ill., last night. He is a delegate to the great convention of the Federation of Churches which meets in Chicago December 4 to 9.

NO FEAR CHRISTMAS TREES WILL BE MISSED

"The children and grown-ups need not fear that there will be any shortage of Christmas trees in the future nor that foresters will discourage this old custom."

This is the word of State Forester E. M. Griffith.

Upon lands that are protected from fire thousands of young pines will come up to the acre, and if left to themselves to follow out nature's law there will be a fierce struggle for existence, so that only a small percentage will survive. The forester's mission is to cut out the less promising trees.

Foresters have not been able, as a rule, to make these "improvement thinning," as they are called, as there has been no market for such young trees, but the demand for Christmas trees promises to furnish the market to a considerable extent, and therefore Forester Griffith hopes that more Christmas trees will be used and not less.

The practice of trespassers in cutting and shipping Christmas trees on private or state lands is being watched and largely prevented. The state has suffered only to a slight extent from such operators, as its lands are watched carefully as Christmas approaches, and such cuttings have been detected in time.

Mr. Griffith was visited the other day by an Iowa man in search of information on tracts of marsh land adapted to the growth of Christmas trees on a large scale. Spruce trees on such tracts will grow several thousand to the acre.

Shippers of Christmas trees are becoming very active in the northern sections of the state.

BRODHEAD

Brodhead, Dec. 4.—L. J. Stair was a passenger to Chicago on Tuesday to purchase new goods.

Messrs. Andy Bennett and Ole Gilbert were visitors in Beloit Tuesday.

Thomas Nealan took his departure Tuesday for California where he expects to pass the winter.

Miss Alice Brooks and Robert Brooks of Lake Lenah, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Cobb, returned home on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Atkinson of Fennimore, are spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Emminger.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will hold their annual fair and chicken pie dinner on Saturday, Dec. 5, in Broughton's Annex. Supper will be served in the same place.

Mrs. Letha Lewis, who has spent the past six weeks with Brodhead relatives and friends, returned to her home in Milwaukee Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Murdoch were passengers on Tuesday to Wilmette, S. D., where they will spend some time with relatives and friends.

Eight Sir Knights of Pearl Lodge, No. 84, K. of P., autoed across country to Beloit last evening to attend a meeting of Beloit Lodge, No. 40.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stephens have moved into their new house on Thomas street.

FULTON

Fulton, Dec. 3.—The ladies of the Aid society will hold their annual fair and supper in the church hall on Friday evening, Dec. 13.

INTEREST IS SHOWN IN SANTA LETTERS

Many Little People Write Him Just What They Want for Christmas Letters Come from Everywhere.

Interest is being evinced in the Santa Claus mail bag and many of his little friends throughout the country are sending in their annual letters to the Patron Saint who is thousands of years old but whose heart is as big as ever. All he asked his little friends to write plainly on one side of the paper only and have them letters at the Gazette office by December 17, so they will reach him in time to be read before he starts on his journey of gift giving Christmas evening.

OBITUARY.

George E. Totten.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Tolton of this city received word last evening of the death of their son, George E. Totten, at Sedalia, Mo. Death came yesterday morning at two o'clock following an illness of some length with pneumonia.

Mr. Tolton was born in Janesville, March 19, 1876. He spent his boyhood in this city leaving some time ago for Milwaukee, where he held a responsible position in the carpet and rug department of one of the large retail stores. Later he went to Chicago and held a similar position at Marshall Field's and was also employed by a wholesale firm. He went to Missouri about a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schultz entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jones and family, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bullock, her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kachel and family and Mr. and Mrs. Niel Tieder, all of Whitewater, on Thanksgiving Day.

James Woods.

James Woods, for the last forty years a resident of Janesville, died at 5:50 o'clock last evening at his home, 102 South Chatham street. He had been ill for five weeks with a stomach disorder but his death comes as a surprise to many of his friends and acquaintances. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, four daughters and one son. The daughters are Mrs. L. Cool, Mrs. M. Zink, Katherine and Anna Woods of Chicago, and one son, J. J. Woods, lives in Janesville.

Funeral services will be held at nine o'clock tomorrow morning at St. Patrick's church. Interment will be made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

"THE THIEF."

Everybody that is everybody who reads or thinks or hears theatrical things knows that "The Thief," which appears at the Myers Theatre Saturday, December 7th, matinee and evening with Miss Marion Sherwood in the leading role, is a great play. "The Thief" is a gripping, human story of intimate relations, the kind of happenings that everyone is likely to encounter. The relations are everyday ones, the loves are everyday ones. There are the relations of the four old friends who are married and understand each other. There are the husband and wife loves and father and son love and the silly futile little hopeless passion of the boy for woman and so on throughout the list. It is a lesson for husband; it is a lesson for wives and above all a lesson for maid-servants and bachelors.

"HOWE TRAVELOGUES."

All that glorious profusion of color in nature which has hitherto eluded photographers will be reproduced by Lyman H. Howe at the Myers Theatre, Dec. 25 and 26, matinee Wednesday, Dec. 25, at 3:00 o'clock, during a delightful pictorial trip on some of the most picturesque rivers of France, through the historic palace of Versailles and also through the city of Paris. In every detail each scene is a perfect and accurate transcription of nature in color as well as in form and motion.

Whaling, the burial of the Maine, the bee industry, a thrilling race between a hydroplane and an 800 horse power motor boat in the harbor of sented has elicited such numerous requests for another presentation and it is in deference to this wide demand that he offers his patrons another opportunity to peer into one of nature's greatest secrets.

"THE THIRD DEGREE."

It is barely possible that the American stage can furnish a rival to Charles Klein, the author of "The Lion and the Mouse," in providing a play with sustained interest running from the rise to the fall of the curtain to such an absorbing degree as he can. This particular virtue has always been a strong feature in Mr. Klein's contributions to dramatic literature.

In his latest efforts, "The Third Degree," which comes to Myers Theatre Saturday, Dec. 14, matinee and evening, our interest is aroused immediately after the curtain goes up on the first act and is sustained throughout the entire performance.

The subject matter of the play is such that it invokes our attention and starts our minds thinking and arouses our best emotions, leaving an impression that is indelible.

The production is of usual magnitude and displays a scenic as well as dramatic art to the greatest advantage.

REVIEW OF SEASON ON LOCAL GRIDIRON

Janesville High School Team Satisfied With Securing Second Place Among State Secondary Elevens.

For the first time in the history of the Janesville high school, a football eleven of that institution has ended its season in a world of glory. The team entered the finals and are proud to think that they possess second place in the running for the state championship. They met Oshkosh and were decisively defeated with some extreme hard luck at times, but they are satisfied now, and will turn their attention to basketball, confident after a most successful season on the gridiron.

The hard had to strop his razor, and when he was ready, he asked: "Shall I go over it again?" "No, thanks," drawled Mark. "It's hardly necessary. I think I can remember every word."

Monaco and an exciting adventure with a ferocious lion are only a few of the other features on a program that is entirely new, excepting only that amazing botanical study entitled, "The Birth of Flowers," which Mr. Howe will present again in response to popular demand. No other reproduction that he has ever preserves honorable mention, as without them, no such successful team would have been possible. The entire team was light in general average, it tipping the beam at 151 pounds at its best. But this was not bad, to think that they were always on the alert to get the jump on their opponents. Next year's team will be minus eight old men, Connell, Falter, Edler, J. Stewart, Mohr, Cummings, Cannon and Kuhlow. With Dalton, Ryan, L. Stewart, Atwood, Henning, Smiley Garbutt and Jones back, a good team should be rounded out, and a better season is looked for next year.

The local individual scoring is as follows in tabulated form.

Touchdowns	No.	Points
Edler	22	132
Copnell	5	30
Falter	4	24
Ryan	4	24
Dalton	1	6
J. Stewart	1	6

Goals from touchdowns, Ryan 25 out of 30 attempts. Dropkicks, Edler 2, or 6 points. The season's record is as follows: Janesville 23, Stoughton 0; Janesville 49, Northwestern Military and Naval Academy, 35; Janesville 41, Whitewater 12; Janesville 33, Beloit 0; Janesville 61, Darlington 7; Janesville 0, Oshkosh 28; Jefferson 0, Janesville 41.

Disqualifications stood in the way a little, but after these were overcome the team was at its best. The game with Oshkosh would have ended 14 to 0, if the locals had given up at the time darkness was coming on, but they were determined to win, and stuck to the last, which they did, until it was so dark that the locals could scarcely tell which man had the ball. The locals were in all ways as good as their opponents, and the high score only came when luck favored the northerners.

The playing ability of Edler and Falter both on offense and defense counts for the ground gained by the locals through the season. Edler was high scorer being credited with extreme long runs and with 22 touchdowns and 2 drop-kicks. Falter did not play all season but he was the man who carried the ball up within striking distance of the opponents goal, after tearing off long runs. He added 4 touchdowns to the list by his playing ability. These two men deserve the right to be on any all-state team as the two best halfbacks in the state.

Captain Connel was a strong man at right end. His steady and heady game, and sure and hard tackling, should give him the position as one of the best ends of the state. Cannon and Dalton were shiners at all points of the game. Cannon cheated his opponent of Oshkosh from center, playing even with him all the game, but the all-state center position finally going to the Eau Claire man. Ryan also developed into a good plunger, and his punting was a feature of every game. His return next year will be needed and all the school are wishing him back. His goal kicking from touchowns were very successful, he having placed the ball between the goal posts 25 times out of 30 attempts.

The other members of the team deserve the right to be on any all-state team as the two best halfbacks in the state.

CATTLE AND HOGS STILL ON DECLINE

Cattle Prices Slump Ten Cents
While Hogs are Down Five Cents—Sheep in Demand.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Chicago, Dec. 4.—Cattle and hogs suffered a further slump on the local market this morning. Heavy receipts are largely responsible for the decline, 19,000 head of cattle being offered and 33,000 head of hogs. Cattle prices dropped as much as twenty cents and the trade was slow and unsatisfactory. Hogs were five cents lower throughout the list with a poor demand. Sheep prices held steady and the 25,000 head estimated in the pens met a strong demand. Following are the quotations:

Cattle—Receipts 19,000; market slow, 10c and one lower; steers $6.60@$10.90; Texas steers 4.40@5.65; western steers 5.40@9.00; stockers and feeders 4.35@7.65; cows and heifers 2.70@7.45; calves 6.50@10.25.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE

WE ARE MOVERS.

The newspapers have thought it worth while to record the fact that one western couple has spent sixty-five years on the same farm.

It is unusual.

In the west especially one will find comparatively few couples that have reared children, welcomed grandmothers and have had great-grandchildren to play in the same home.

However—

In the old countries such a thing as living on one farm for sixty-five years would provoke little comment. There is an inn in England whose license as a public place is 500 years old, and inns are transient things compared with farms.

Sixty-five years?

Why, in Europe descendants of one family have lived on the same estate for a thousand years or more. Having been born in a certain place, the average European takes that as sufficient excuse for staying there.

We do it differently.

Having been born in a certain place, we make that place the point of our departure. At the most the average young man puts the age of twenty-one years as the limit of his stay.

Which explains much in our character as a people.

Because of our native restlessness and desire to go to new places we are the most enterprising people in the world. In Europe men stay where they were born and follow the business of their fathers; in America men go beyond and begin a new business.

The American is at home wherever his hat is off.

If he cannot go west and grow up with the country because the west is filling up he will jump over into Canada, Hawaii or the Philippines.

He is a mover.

He began to move when the slow caravans found their way across the Alleghenies, and his covered wagon has gone on to "Pike's peak or bust" and beyond.

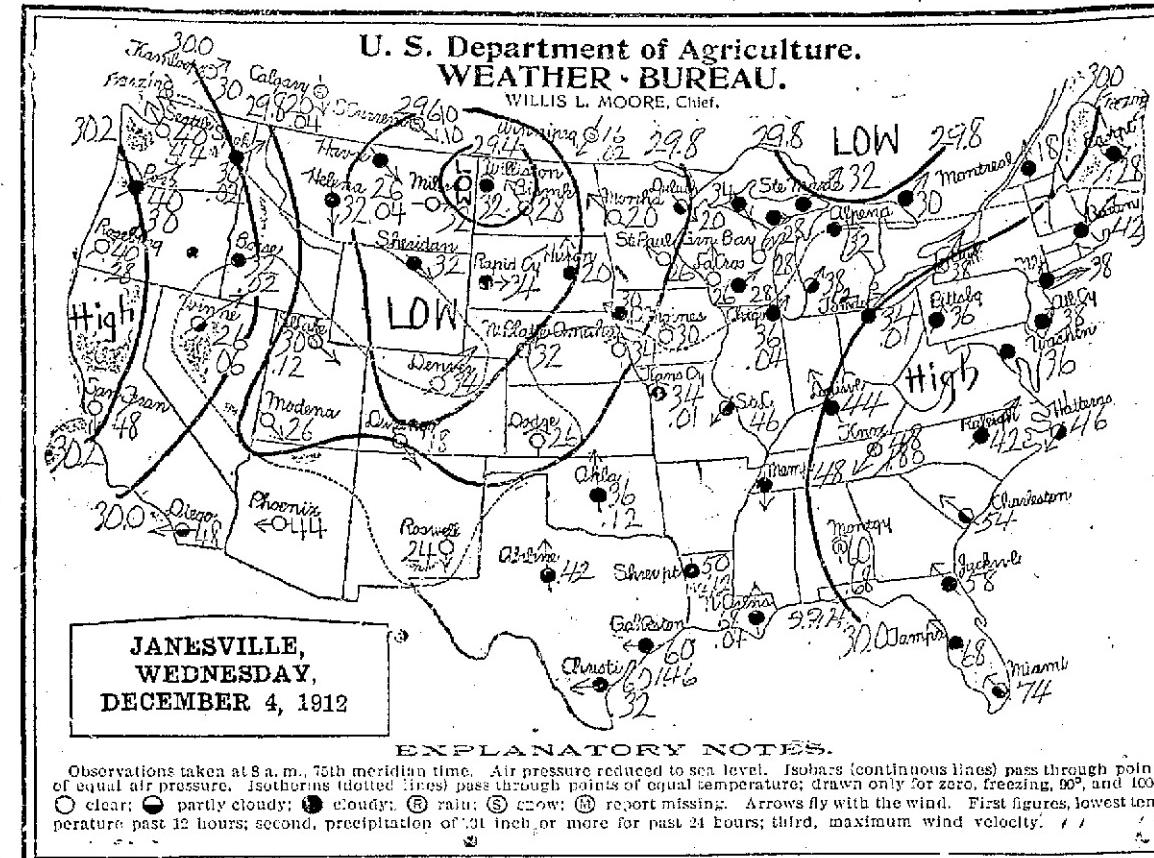

There are some drawbacks to this desire for a change. While it accounts for our driving power and prosperous ways, there is this fact:

Our society lacks cohesion.

Our contact with each other is brief, and we do not get into close touch with one another. It is easy for the politician to divide us and get his way, which has much to do with the corruption in our political and industrial life.

Worst of all—

Home does not mean to us what it ought to mean—the house of our fathers, the place where we have lived and loved and the place where our children shall be born.

Observations taken at 8 a.m., 70th meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature; drawn only for zero, freezing, 30°, and 40°. (1) clear; (2) partly cloudy; (3) cloudy; (4) rain; (5) snow; (6) report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figures, lowest temperature past 12 hours; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.

Dec. 4, 1912.—The atmospheric pressure is low throughout the interior of the West, and southerly winds with rising temperature attend these atmospheric incursions on the north Pacific slope, and the country, with a center of low pressure, another on the northern plains. Clouds and rain has fallen in the south, and snow in the northern Rockies.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

WHEN THE TIDE TURNS.

"WHEN you get into a tight place and everything goes against you until it seems you cannot hold on a minute longer, never give up then, for that is just the place and time that the tide will turn." —Harriet Beecher Stowe.

"Sometimes hit's a mighty good thing to be the lowest spoke in de Wheel uv Fortune; you jes' bleedged to come up, no matter which way de wheel turns."

Of all the proverbs that pack our language it seems to me there is none with more real meaning in it than this:

"It's always darkest just before dawn."

Day before yesterday I had one of those days when nothing happens as it should, when one calamity follows hotly upon the heels of another, in short, "when everything goes dead wrong."

The employment bureau which had promised to send the first class maid sent out a slatternly and brazen creature who smelled unmistakably of brandy; the maid who was departing avenged herself by breaking my favorite vase; she also left the ice box open and the cat stole the dinner; I went shopping and found I was just too late to avail myself of a rare bargain in a long-continued article for which I cannot afford to pay the full price; the postman brought me a bill which was about twice what I expected, and a letter from a dear friend saying she would have to give up the visit we had planned; the drainage got stopped up; I walked two miles to interview a maid about whom I had heard only to find she had taken a position an hour ago; and bitterest drop of all, I came home so tired and exasperated that I lost my temper completely and finished the day by saying disagreeable things to those I love best in the world.

I went to bed absolutely disheartened and wondering what there was in the world worth living for.

That was day before yesterday, and yesterday was a golden day. For, as it always does, the tide having reached its lowest ebb, turned and came flooding in, bedding all sorts of blessings.

I have chronicled these two days so fully because I think they are typical in the lives of all of us. Into every life there comes just about once in so often one of these utterly disheartening days; but isn't it just as sure that a day like this is almost always followed by a day of successes and blessings, of peace and happiness?

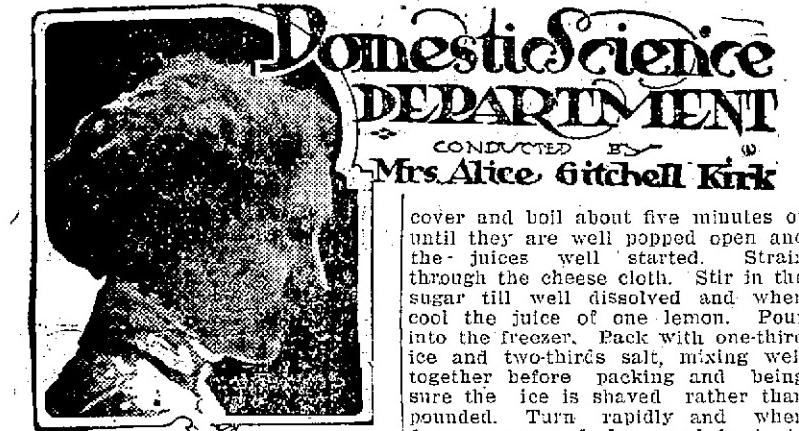

When the tide has reached its lowest ebb it simply must turn; "it's always darkest just before dawn."

Nor is this true merely of separate days and trifling annoyances. It is also true of long periods in our lives and of great sorrows.

The happiest time of my life came to me just after I had emerged from my greatest grief. My most successful year followed one of complete disengagement.

Is today one of those days of trial and annoyance for you? Is this year one of your years of grief and discouragement?

Courage, comrade, try to remember "it's always darkest just before dawn."

"Peace on earth, good will towards men," is what Christmas signifies, and there are very few who have ever realized all the joy of that message. With the great desire to make presents on this holiday we work, spend and worry at the expense of strength and income. Don't do it. Think many times of the above and make this a truly peaceful Christmas to yourself and its influence will be felt by all around you.

Try decorating the home more this year and that gives an atmosphere of peace and happiness little understood until once tried and a much more lasting impression for good than the giving of presents. There is no gift equal to that of thought and love. Try it.

CHRISTMAS FIG PUDDING.

Materials—Beef suet, 1-2 lb.; flour, 3 cups; figs, 1 pound; brown sugar, 1 cup; candied orange peel, 2 tbsp.; salt, 3 teaspoonsful; cloves, 1-4 tea-spoonfuls; grated nutmeg, 1-2 tea-spoonfuls; cinnamon, 1-2 tea-spoonfuls; eggs, 2; sweet milk, 1-2 cups.

Utensils—Mold, teaspoon, food chopper, sieve and egg beater.

Directions—Chop the suet fine and mix with one cup of the flour; then add the figs chopped fine, brown sugar, rolled smooth and the orange peel, chopped fine and simmered in a little water or syrup. Mix all together thoroughly. Pass all the remaining dry ingredients through a sieve, then sift again into the first mixture and mix thoroughly. Beat the eggs, add the milk and stir into the dry ingredients to form a stiff dough. Turn into the mold well buttered and steam six hours. Serve with hard or liquid pudding sauce. If this is put into covered mold and set in boiling water in the fireless cooker; thirty minutes on the fire will answer and finish in the cooker.

CRANBERRY SHERBET.

Materials—Cranberries, 1 quart; water, 1 pint; sugar, 2 cups; juice of one lemon.

Utensils—Saucepans, cheese cloth, measuring cup, lemon squeezer, ice cream freezer, wooden spoon.

Directions—Put the berries over the fire in the saucpan with the water, now add all the remaining ingredients except eggs and cream and mix well together. Cover closely and let stand several days, at least twenty-four hours. Add the beaten eggs and cream and pack in well-buttered molds. Cover tightly and steam six hours. Put away in a cool, dry place, and when ready to use steam at least two hours and longer will do no harm. Serve with hard sauce or ice cream.

In blanching the almonds either pour cold water over them for several hours to remove the skins or put over the fire with cold water. Bring just to the boiling point, remove the skins and dry the almonds off quickly in the oven.

"HEN, Eve brought woe to all mankind . . . Old Adam called her woe-man . . . When she wooed with love so kind, He then pronounced her woe-man . . . But now, with folly and with pride, Their husbands' pockets trimming, The women are so full of whims That men pronounce them wimmen . . . —Anon.

WAYS OF USING POTATOES.

Potatoes, besides being a wholesome and nutritious vegetable, is a welcome addition to many dishes.

Potato Cake.—This cake is especially nice, and the potatoes keep it moist and fresh. A fine cake for the cake box or one nice to carry on trips or picnics:

Take two cups of sugar, add two-thirds of a cup of softened butter; add the yolks of four eggs, well beaten, two cups of flour sifted with two teaspoonsfuls of baking powder and teaspoonsful each of cinnamon and cloves, a half teaspoon of grated nutmeg; then add a half cup of sweet milk or water, a cup of hot mashed potatoes which have been mixed with two squares of grated chocolate. Add a cup of walnuts. Beat well and fold in the whites of four eggs. Bake in loaf or layers. If baked in layers, put together with the following icing: Boil together a cup of granulated sugar, seven tablespoonsfuls of water and three-quarters of a tablespoonful of vinegar. Cook until a thread forms, then pour over the whites of two eggs well beaten; beat until cool enough to spread.

Potato Muffins.—Dissolve a compressed yeast cake in a half cup of cold water; add a teaspoonful of sugar, two well beaten eggs, a cupful of mashed potatoes, three-fourths of a cup of lard and butter mixed, two teaspoonsfuls of salt, a half cup of sugar, a cup of water and the yeast. Beat well with enough flour to make a batter that drops from the spoon. Set the mixture in a warm place to rise and when light add flour as for rolls; knead lightly, let rise again, then roll in biscuits about a quarter of an inch thick. Place one on top of the other with butter in between, and allow to rise again, then bake in a hot oven.

MINCE MEAT.

Materials—Lean boiled beef, 3 lbs.; suet, 1-2 lbs.; chopped apples, 3 quarts; stoned raisins, 1 quart; currants, 2 cups; citron, 1-4 lb.; marmalade, 1 cup; oranges, juice of two; lemons, juice of two; grated rind of one or each; nutmeg, 1; powdered mace, 1-4 teaspoonful; salt, 1 table-spoonful; brown sugar, 3 cups or 1-2 pints; cider, 2 cups; sherry, 1 cup; brandy as desired or sweet pickle vinegar.

Utensils—Measuring cup, scales, grater, lemon squeezer, sharp knife, measuring spoon, kettle, jars.

Directions—Chop the meat and suet fine and shred the citron. Mix all the dry ingredients together, then the liquids (except brandy and sherry.) Mix all well together and bring slowly to the boiling point; boil five minutes. Remove from the fire and add sherry and brandy (if you use it) and seal in jars. This will make seven quart jars and cost about $1.25.

PLUM PUDDING.

Materials—Seeded raisins, 1-4 lb.; English currants, 1-4 lb.; blanched almonds, 1-4 lb.; candied lemon peel, 1-4 lb.; candied orange peel, 1-4 lb.; candied citron, 1-4 lb.; walnut meats, 1-4 lb.; suet, 1-2 lb.; sifted bread crumbs, 1-2 lb.; granulated sugar, 1 cup; cream (scant), 1-4 cup; eggs, 4; cinnamon, 1 table-spoonful; salt, 1-2 tea-spoonful; cloves, 1-2 tea-spoonful; nutmeg, 1-2 tea-spoonful; brandy, 1 wine glass; fruit juice or wine, 1 wine glassful.

Utensils—Food chopper, mixing bowl; egg beater, molds, steamer, scales, measuring cup, teaspoon.

Directions—Chop half the raisins and add to them the currants, chopped walnuts and almonds, citron, orange, lemon peel shredded fine.

Now add all the remaining ingredients except eggs and cream and mix

Cold is caught at the table, for instance, never at the open window; the immediate or exciting cause of the cold is a sudden lowering of temperature, causing congestion of the accumulated waste matter due to over-eating with accompanying defective elimination, due in turn to constipation, shallow breathing, sluggish liver, kidneys or skin or bad mental condition, which produces waste and interferes with free circulation. All these conditions are operative, in varying degree, in every individual, but one of the commonest contributing causes of "cold" is constipation, and in the winter, confinement in close rooms without sufficient exercise, which favors the condition precedent to cold. The climax that develops cold comes when there is exposure under the congested condition favorable to its development, and especially when the nervous supply is so exhausted that the system is unable to adjust itself to the unequal tension due to sudden lowering of the temperature at one point—and hence one may rush from a warm room with little clothing into frosty air, in case of fire in winter, and not contract cold. Whence one should not fear a draft, should avoid overeating of heavy foods, should bathe regularly and exercise in cold air, fasting occasionally if one is over the normal weight, and avoid worry and constipation.

GIRLS! GIRLS! SURELY TRY THIS!
DOUBLES BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR

All You Need is a 25 Cent Bottle of "Danderine"—Hair Gets Lustrous, Fluffy and Abundant at Once. Destroys All Dandruff.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the job of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

A delightful surprise awaits, particularly those who have been careless, whose hair has been neglected or is scrappy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use of Danderine, when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it; surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowledge's Danderine from any drug store or lotion counter and just try it. Adv.

The Original Christmas Gift

DOESN'T the original Christmas present just delight you to death?" asked Marjorie as she breezed into the studio.

"Do you mean the first Christmas present?" asked one of the crowd gathered there. "The gold would delight me all right. I do not know as I would have much use for frankincense and myrrh."

"Oh, I don't mean that," replied Marjorie. "That was a lovely gift to put before that Little Child, it was so pure and fine. But I mean the gift that is original, that is different."

"Where can you find one nowadays?" asked the cynic, in the voice of one who had been on a long quest and returned empty-handed.

"Seems to me there would be plenty, if one would just think. It isn't something that is uncommon in itself, but uncommon in the life of the person who gets it. What set me to thinking of it, is the fact that Aunt Cordelia is going to send a bottle of the best wine she can get, and a big box of bonbons, to Father Parry. It seems he's of the clerical faith that can drink wine; and she says that those men who live in a religious house, like he does, never have many good things to eat. So she's just going to send him things to eat. Men like things to eat anyway," concluded Marjorie.

"How would it do to send our minister a subscription to a humorous magazine?" asked one of the group.

"I'll wager he'd enjoy it more than 'Essays on the Religious Life,' or 'Thoughts on the Hereafter,' or some such thing. He's probably deluged with such literature every Christmas."

"And think of all the old people who get knitted shawls and bedroom slippers and hot water bottles. Every year I tear around like mad trying to find something to keep Aunt Martha warm, though I never heard her say she was cold, and the house is kept at eighty all the time. I nearly roast every time I go there. This Christmas I am going to send her an order on the best garage in town, for a ride once a week, when the weather is nice, in the snuggest, most comfortable limousine they have."

"You really could think up lots of original Christmas presents couldn't you?" said one of the girls meditatively. "If you'd just get at it. Most everybody sends a housekeeper something for her house; whereas, a weekly ticket to a matinee would probably be such a shock she'd nearly have heart failure. But she'd revive in time to go."

"To a sick or blind person, one could have sent once a week from the Woman's Exchange, some delicious thing to eat, or engage a good bright talker to go talk or read to her," suggested another.

"That's it," said Marjorie. "The way to discover the original Christmas present is to think of the most uncommon thing in the life of the person to whom you want to send it, a thing that is enjoyable but altogether out of their experience. For some people it might be an article of dress; for others, something for the house. It doesn't have to be unusual in itself, but unusual, though desirable, in the life of the one who gets it."

"Handkerchiefs certainly do not create a joyous shock, do they?" asked one.

"Or neckties?" said another.

"Under some circumstances, they might," replied Marjorie, "but usually they are just a way to let yourself get easy."

"You have to let yourself out easy once in a while, these days," said the cynic, "or get hauled away to a mad house."

"Well," said one of the girls, "I am going to try to put all my gifts in the class of the original Christmas present. It really will be fun trying to think them out. Something like solving a puzzle."

"And your clue," said Marjorie, "is to think over the life of each one to whom you are sending a gift, and see what would be the pleasantest surprise you could put into it."

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson. I am a girl of 16 and not long ago met another girl of 16. At first I thought very much of her but afterwards found she was not the right kind of girl for me to associate with. Therefore I made up my mind to drop her. I have to see her at a meeting place once or twice a week and have tried to treat her coolly without avail. She asks me to come to her house every time she sees me and I keep making up excuses that I can't come. Is there any other way I could let her know I don't want her company without hurting her feelings?

BIRDIE.

She will get tired of inviting you when she finds you never come. Try to be very busy with something whenever you see her, so that you won't have to say more than "how do you do?" to her.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 14.

(1)—What should be a nice Christmas present for mother? (2)—Can you give me a good cake-recipe? (3)—What would be a good way to make a winter dress for me? (4)—Is it wrong for a girl of my age to go to a fortune teller? SIS.

(1)—You might make her a pair of warm bedroom slippers or a dusting cap or dainty tea apron. If you can knit or crochet a pretty little vest to wear under her coat on cold days, she would probably love that. These things can be bought in the stores, also.

(2)—Apple sauce cake: Take 1-1/2 cups apple sauce, 2 teaspoons suds dissolved in 1 tablespoon hot water, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon cloves. Make apple sauce as for table use, hashed fine and sweetened. This cake is good for new when eggs are scarce.

(3)—Make it Norfolk style. (4)—It wouldn't do you any good, my dear, and might give you wrong ideas of things. Fortune tellers don't know any more about the future than you or I do. Only God knows that.

BROWN EYES.

(1)—He is not engaged to marry you and had a right to go with other girls. He probably is quite fond of you, but I doubt if he loves you enough to want to marry you.

(2)—Don't let him see that you are jealous. Tell him to go with as many girls as he wants to and you will go with as many boys as you want to.

(3)—Yes—if your parents don't know it. A respectable man wants to visit the girl he loves in her own home.

(4)—Yes—if you are not going to marry him.

Sweet Charity.

"Has it ever occurred to you that the more money a man has the more difficult it is for him to be charitable?

When one is poor and has only a few cents it is an easy matter to divide the money with some poor devil who has none."

RURAL SCHOOL DAY HAS BEEN SUGGESTED

Ministers of Many Denominations Will Preach on Rural Betterment City Clergymen in Favor, Too.

Ministers of many denominations will preach next Sunday on the needed improvement in rural communities through the rural school. They will use the facts of the remarkable report just issued by our State Board of Public Affairs as the basis of their sermons. A local minister has received from the University pastor of his denomination the following letter:

Dear Brother:

The opportunity is offered you here to perform a distinct public service. The State Board of Public Affairs has just completed an investigation into the rural schools of the state. Among other things the report will point out that lax methods of controlling school expenditures prevails—reports are inaccurate—school officers are careless; that sanitary and educational conditions in rural schools are poor; and that state and county supervision of rural schools is seriously defective.

The report will point out, too, a better side. It will show, for example, that "in spite of defects in organization, lack of authority and inadequacy of clerical help, many instances have been found where a strong personality has found ways of effectively directing the school boards, supervising teachers, starting instruction in useful arts and helping teachers to be leaders in community life." It will tell, too, by reference to specific instances, what exceptional teachers and public spirited citizens have done.

It is believed that if the conditions mentioned first are presented to the people against the background of such splendid service as is described, a decided advance will be taken by the enlightened citizenship.

The proposition has come to us that the pastors of the state would be glad of the opportunity to help make the rural schools better. The specific proposition is to have a Rural School Sunday, December 8. On this day the pastors of all denominations, using the facts of the Board of Public Affairs' report as a basis, will preach on the subject of the needed improvement of the schools as a factor in rural betterment. It is hoped that these sermons will be printed in whole or in part in the local press and likewise in pamphlet form here in Madison.

The whole matter is briefly thus:

(1) The State Board of Public Affairs has conducted a careful investigation of rural schools extending over several months. It will be clearly demonstrated in their report that a much needed improvement in the rural schools is essential to any general advance of social conditions in Wisconsin.

(2) Adequate discussion will help greatly in remedying the adverse conditions discovered. Specifically, a Rural School Sunday would be, perhaps, the most potent single factor.

(3) The reports and statements issued by the State Board of Public Affairs will be cheerfully furnished you as a basis for your sermon or address.

The opportunity is yours, will you avail yourself of it?

Fraternal yours,

UNIVERSITY PASTOR.

Upon inquiry it was learned that there is quite a general sentiment back of this movement for a Rural School Sunday. The university pastors of the Lutheran, Methodist, Episcopal, Congregationalist and Presbyterian denominations have sent letters similar to the above to the ministers of their denomination throughout the state. Many ministers of all denominations have written to the State Board of Affairs for copies of the report, and the discussion will evidently be general, for the requests have come from all parts of the state. The city clergymen have also taken up the proposition, and will point out in detail the dependence of city upon country conditions educationally and economically. They will show that better rural schools means a better Wisconsin.

Their Honeymoon.

A newly married couple living in Fulton took their honeymoon on a motor cycle. This department is not qualified to testify as an expert in the matter of honeymoons, but, believe us, motor cycling doesn't appeal to us as a start toward connubial bliss. Some folks may call it exercise, but it looks more to us like sitting in a draft.—Kansas City Times.

HIS RISE TO POWER

By HENRY RUSSELL MILLER

He was trembling. He had to steel himself again before he could reply. "I can't let myself hope that you will come. But if you come, it must be without persuasion from me."

She went a few steps up the stairs toward the terrace. Then she stopped and faced him again. "Goodby. And

"Thank you for not humiliating me. thank you for not humiliating me, for saying that you cared." She said it without a quaver.

"Goodby." He got into the trap and drove away without once looking back.

"John, John!" she whispered. "Why didn't you take me—in spite of myself?" Then she went into the house.

In the hall she found her father, reading. He looked at her sharply.

"You look done up. It was a fool errand. What's Williams driving out again for?"

"It wasn't Williams," she answered.

"John Dunmeade came home with me."

"Humph!" he growled. "You'll be making a fool of yourself over that fellow yet if you're not careful."

"No, I won't," she said wearily. "He won't let me. He doesn't want me. I virtually proposed to him and he virtually told me I am a selfish pig."

"Eh? It's a good thing we're going away tomorrow. You go upstairs to bed. And when you say your prayers thank the Lord that I've brought you up to be what you are and that you aren't going to be the wife of a one horse country lawyer."

CHAPTER VIII.

Across the Border.

The next morning at the breakfast table Judge Dunmeade sat in a frigid but eloquent silence. John began, hesitatingly, "Father, last night—"

"It is too late for regrets, sir."

"I am not exactly regretting. But I felt an explanation"—

"Cau you," the judge interrupted coldly, "explain away the fact that you have betrayed the party that honored you, cast discredit upon William Murchell, who has given you his friendship, upon me, who—can you explain that?" He rose.

John shook his head. "I thought I could. But now I'm afraid not."

The judge's lips parted, then closed firmly as though he could not trust himself to speak. He raised his hand in a gesture in which grief and hopelessness were blended and, turning, stalked slowly from the room.

John smiled uncertainly. "I'm afraid, Aunt Roberta, your bones were a true prophet."

She sighed assentingly. He went perito fac his neighbors—an ordeal.

New Chelsea was rent in twain, into many divisions—by John's speech, its honest but partisan soul-sorely troubled.

The largest number, torn betwixt liking for their young neighbor and the mental discomfort of those whose traditions had been rudely jarred, withheld judgment until they could see what befell. Among the farmers was no dissension. A sudden lifting of heads, a still half-unbelieving rejoicing that the young fellow, who as he sweat with them in the fields asked questions, had dared to voice their protest.

The Globe, stanchly partisan, made no mention of John's part in the rally save the unconsciously humorous sentence, "Attorney John Dunmeade also spoke."

Later, not greatly uplifted by the doubtful honor of being a bone of contention, John was alone in his office, smoking furiously, brow wrinkled, feet propped on the table. A heavy tread in the outer room announced the arrival of a visitor. Without knocking the newcomer flung open the door and strode into the office. His hat was pushed back on his head; an unlighted cigar stuck out at an aggressive angle from the corner of his mouth. He surveyed John in mingled anger and disgust. John, not rising, sighted over lazy feet.

"Good morning, Sheehan," he said with a pleasantness that would have carried a warning to a calmer observer than the boss.

Without invitation Sheehan sat down. "Well," he growled, "you did it, didn't you?" When a young feller like you thinks he's better than his party he's got a lot to learn."

John considered this statement for a moment. "I do not," he concluded, "think I am better than my party."

Sheehan caught the point. "Hub! Guess you don't know who the party is."

"That's just what I'm trying to decide. Perhaps you can enlighten me."

"I can. A party," Sheehan spoke with intense conviction—"a party is those that control it."

"Then in Benton county you're the party?"

"Eggsactly! Me and Murchell."

"Then modestly, I do think I'm better than the party," John responded, still pleasantly. "And, as you say, I've a lot to learn. Have you come to teach me?"

"Say, hain't you no respect for my position in this county?"

"For your position a great deal; for you—none at all."

Sheehan grinned in spite of himself.

"I like your nerve. That's what makes me sore," he went on reproachfully. "I like you. I was glad to do you a favor. I gave you a chance to get in strong with us. And you go and beef it by throwin' down the state ticket. What did you do it for?"

"I'm afraid you won't understand, Sheehan. It's a question of ideals."

Sheehan snorted. "Idiot! I know all about 'em. What's ideals? Can you eat 'em? Can you wear 'em? Can you stuff 'em into your pants' pocket like this?" He illustrated by drawing out a fat roll of bills. "Will they get you votes? When I came to Plumbville fifteen years ago all I owned was the shirt on my back. Now I can buy out any man in Benton county except Stevie Hampden and Murchell, and when they want anything here they're glad enough to come to me and make it worth my while to give it to 'em. I didn't get it by havin' ideals."

How true, John thought, judging from his narrow experience. Was it possible that the seats of the mighty were reserved only for the Murchells, the Hampdens, the Sheehans? He thought disgustedly of the coarse, brutish thing before him. Yet Sheehan could command his retinue of followers. One of them entered John's mind. He looked up suddenly. "Sheehan, who is Butch Maley?"

"Who's Butch Maley? He's the Fourth precinct, Fourth ward, that's what he is, and it's the biggest precinct in the city. He's the whole works, voters and election board."

"You mean he monkeys with the count?"

"I mean," replied Sheehan significantly, "that when we need a few votes we can always get 'em from Butch's precinct."

"I see. I've heard of those precincts. If-in-'m Sheehan, I don't think you're as smart as you think you are. What did you come to teach me?"

"I come to give you another chance. You can give an interview sayin' that you was misunderstood—that you're for the state ticket strong and want all your friends to vote for it."

"Is that an order or a request?"

"Whichever you please," Sheehan answered shortly.

"I have found my place. My peo-

"And if I don't do it?"
There's another man runnin' for district attorney."

"Why, Sheehan!" John simulated reproachful surprise well. "Surely you wouldn't go back on your party! But I forget—you're the party, aren't you? I suppose Simeon belongs to the party too?" Simeon was John's opponent. "And if I do?"

"Then you'll win."

John got leisurely to his feet. His visitor also rose. "Sheehan, you're lying. You'll knife me in any case. Well, I won't do it. So go ahead and beat me—if you can. I'd rather be beaten than be beholden to you, you know. You're not smart, you're just greedy and there's been nobody to thwart you. You're just a big bully with a soul as fat as your body. Do you know you're getting awfully fat?" He began ple! I am willing to pay." It was a vow of consecration.

The courtroom in the dingy old court-house of New Chelsea was crowded on a certain day in May, past the point of mere discomfort.

The voice of the defendant's counsel rose and fell. He was something of an actor, and he put a deal of convincing passion into his words. In New Chelsea oratory is still loved. The audience hung intent, almost breathless, on the scene enacted before them. They had the feeling of being not spectators, but participants in the little drama. Perhaps they were, for it was the trial of Jim Sheehan.

Senator Murchell was not listening to the speech. He was intently regarding the set profile across the counsel table and measuring the man he saw there against the boyish, eager and very likable young man whom, almost a year before, a little boss and a big bad sought to press into their service. John Dunmeade had grown. One saw that in the already grave, almost sad, lines of his face. Work and thought and responsibility and purpose—and something else of which the senator had no inkling—had set their stamp upon him.

There had been no lack of accomplishment during the five months of office holding. To this truth eloquent witnesses might have been called—Butch Maley and Red Bricker, already serving terms in the penitentiary; Slavyou, a fugitive, bail forfeited; Brown and Parsons, free only pending appeal; and now Sheehan, his fate hanging in the balance. The machine, Senator Murchell knew, would be rebuilt better and stronger than ever, but for the present it was sadly, sadly out of gear.

He let his glance gray from John to the defendant. Sheehan sat slouched in his chair in an attitude that he vainly sought to render jaunty, confident. His cheeks had fallen in slightly. His eyelids were puffy and red rimmed. His mouth hung flabbily. His hands played nervously with a piece of paper. (To be continued.)

How to Recover Strength.

So many people are asking how to recover their strength after severe sickness that we are publishing this information for their benefit.

After gripe, pleurisy, pneumonia or any illness what you need is new strength and better blood.

The most certain way to get this is by taking Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation (without oil). It creates strength, improves the blood, sharpens the appetite and restores the entire system to a healthy robust condition.

Mrs. Alice Mill of Newton, N. C., says: "I had a very severe attack of gripe which confined me to my bed for several weeks. After I was able to sit up, I felt weak, tired and worn out for a long time. A friend advised me to try Vinol and before I had taken one bottle I was entirely relieved of that tired, worn out feeling which usually follows gripe and I had regained my strength and felt well again.

Try a bottle of Vinol. Your money will be returned if it does not restore your vitality and strength. Smith Drug Co., Janesville, Wis.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Dec. 4, 1872.—Y. M. A. Election: The annual election of officers for the Young Men's Association, which occurred last night, resulted in the choice of the following gentlemen: president, A. H. Baxter; vice president, H. W. McElroy; recording secretary, E. W. Lovell; corresponding secretary, H. A. Smith; treasurer, E. F. Welch; librarian, W. D. Parker; assistant librarian, Wm. Smith, Jr.; marshal, C. W. Storey.

The library committee of the association have decided to re-open the library on Saturday. Hereafter it will be open only two afternoons and two evenings of each week. The first installment of about one hundred and fifty new books has been ordered and will be received in a few days.

Brief Items: Three equine deaths per week seems to be the average of each rural township in the county. Milton College has closed for a two weeks vacation.

Colonel Britton and family are visiting in Chicago and during their absence their house has been entered by sneak thieves and thoroughly ransacked. As the colonel has not yet returned, the extent of their depredations is not known.

people's votes in our behalf may fall; then will come back our wailing goats, with whiskers, horns and all! The people mark the joyous sport, and on some future day when their influence shall count their votes will come his way.

When counted were the recent votes we found (and were dismayed) that 57,000 goats were stolen, lost or strayed. And some who lost their treasured goats were grouchly, sad and sore; dire threats came smacking from their throats, they pawed the ground and swore. "We were the victims of a clique, a faction or a ring, but we'll get even yet," they shriek; "we'll grind our knives, by jing, and when the traitors, villains, knaves, themselves for office strive, their goats will fill dis-

GOOD LOSERS honored graves, as sure as we're alive!"

The also rans who talk like this but fill their friends with aches; for folks don't make a hit who hiss like loosed garter snakes. Some other losers go around as though they felt relief, and from their lips then comes no sound of mourning or of grief. "Our goats are gone, so let them go!" exclaim these dauntless men; "but when we have the time, you know, we'll round them up again! Some other day the
